LONDON SEMINAR

Thursday 24 March 2011
6pm to 7.30pm (registration from 5.30pm)

Burges Salmon LLP, Chancery Exchange,
10 Furnival Street, London EC4A 1AB

We look forward to seeing you at our annual Hot Topics seminar.

Our subjects include:

- recent case law like
 - the Court of Appeal decision in IMG v German (whether a disputed claim to a pension can be settled without going to court),
 - Catchpole v Alitalia Pension Trustees (whether the deceased's unmarried partner was entitled to a survivor's pension on the strength of a letter from the employer incorrectly saying that unmarried partners were entitled to a dependant's pension),
 - Nortel and Lehman Bros v the Pensions Regulator (about the relationship between insolvency law and pensions law over financial support directions).
- our experience of the Pensions Regulator in the last year, including its use contribution notices and financial support directions, and its strong line on covenant review and incentive exercises,
- auto-enrolment.

The seminar is likely to suit pensions professionals and those, like trustees and senior HR and finance professionals, who are closely involved in running an occupational pension scheme. But you are welcome to attend whatever your interest in pensions law.
